Tent hire East London prices typically range from R1 200 for a basic 3m x 3m garden tent to R8 500 for a 10m x 20m structure that seats 200 guests, with most local suppliers in East London quoting between R2 500 and R15 000 depending on size, duration, and extras. The final figure depends on whether you need the tent for a Saturday wedding in Nahoon Beach or a weekday corporate function in Vincent, because weekend demand in Buffalo City pushes rates up by roughly 20 to 30 percent.

How much does it cost to hire a tent in East London?

A standard 6m x 9m tent, which seats about 60 people at banquet tables, costs between R2 800 and R4 500 for a single day in East London. Smaller options like a 3m x 6m canopy for a garden party in Gonubie run R1 200 to R2 000. Large event tents for 200-plus guests in Beacon Bay or Quigney start at R6 500 and climb past R12 000 when you add side walls, flooring, and lighting. Delivery fees vary by suburb: expect R400 to R800 for Southernwood or Mdantsane, and up to R1 200 if you are closer to East London Airport or beyond the city limits.

What size tent do I need for 100 guests?

For 100 guests seated at round tables, you need a 9m x 15m tent, which gives roughly 1.2 square metres per person for dining. If you want a dance floor and a bar inside the same structure, go up to 10m x 18m. Cocktail-style standing events for 100 people fit comfortably in a 6m x 12m tent at about 0.7 square metres per person. When you book tent hire East London for parties, always confirm the table layout with the supplier first – a U-shape arrangement eats far more floor space than rows of rounds.

Do you provide delivery and installation?

Most East London tent hire companies include delivery, setup, and takedown in the quoted price, but only within a 30 to 40 kilometre radius of the city centre. Installation for a standard 6m x 9m tent takes two to three hours with a crew of three. Sites like Duncan Village or Orient Beach may incur extra charges for difficult access, uneven ground, or if the crew needs to work after dark. Confirm whether the quote covers the full weekend hire — many suppliers charge a two-day minimum for events that span Friday to Sunday, which is common for weddings at venues near Gonubie or Nahoon Beach.

What is included in a tent hire package?

A standard package includes the tent frame, waterproof PVC canopy, side walls, and basic installation. What you pay extra for is almost everything else: flooring at R40 to R80 per square metre, banquet chairs at R15 to R25 each, tables at R100 to R180 per unit, and string lighting from R250 per 10 metres. For tent hire East London for corporate events, many suppliers bundle in a branded backdrop or skirting at no extra cost, but for weddings in Quigney or Vincent, décor, draping, and chandeliers are separate line items. Always ask for a written breakdown — hidden costs usually appear as "site fee," "generator surcharge," or "overtime labour" if your event runs past 22:00.

FAQ

Can I hire a tent for just four hours? Yes, some suppliers in East London offer half-day rates at about 60 percent of the full-day price, but you must be strict on the takedown time. Most crews will not return for a separate collection trip without charging an extra R500.

Do I need to book months in advance? For summer weekends from November to March, book at least eight to ten weeks ahead, especially for venues near Orient Beach or Nahoon Beach. Weekday hires in Mdantsane or Duncan Village can often be arranged within a week.

What happens if it rains? Quality tents in East London use 650gsm PVC that is fully waterproof, but you must ensure side walls are included in your quote. Without them, rain blows in at an angle, and you will pay a premium to add walls on the day.
